Picture Producers, NorthWestern Line Boost Parsons Day

Representatives Here to Aid Committees in Preparations

Irving Yergin of Chicago, in charge of the publicity department of Warner Bros. producers, met with several committee heads at the Hotel Nachusa today, canvassing plans for Louella Parsons Day Sept. 15. He has just returned from Hollywood where he interviewed both Miss Parsons and "Dutch" Reagan.

"Allow me plenty of time in Dixon to visit with my old friends," Miss Parsons instructed Mr. Yergin while discussing plans for her homecoming here.

Reagan, who is in the midst of production of a forthcoming release, "King's Row," was more excited over his visit to Dixon than over the script, according to the Warner Bros. representative.

"I want to have time to make a real visit," "Dutch" urged the representative. "I'm going up to Lowell park, then I want to go down to Tampico and I can't make a trip down to Eureka, where I attended college."

Harold Mayer of Chicago, public relations director for the C. & N. W. railway, and his young son accompanied the Warner Bros. representative to Dixon today and after the meeting, they visited several locations which will figure prominently in the homecoming celebration for the former Dixonites, and the presence of many other luminaries from the movie capital.

Star's Mother Coming
Mrs. J. E. Reagan, Mr. Yergin stated, would arrive in Dixon on September 3rd to visit with former friends and to be present throughout the celebration.

S. Charles Einfeld of Hollywood, director of advertising and publicity for the Warner Bros. studios will accompany the guests to Dixon for the day.

A portion of the celebration will be broadcast over the Columbia Broadcasting Company network. It was announced today. A local station will be set up and this particular portion of the program will be heard over 28 stations, including Hollywood, being broadcast direct from Dixon.

Mayor William Slothower today extended an invitation to Major General Joseph M. Cummings, commander of the Sixth Corps Area of the United States Army, to be present on this memorable occasion, which will surpass any former public undertaking in Dixon's history.

Aedes Sollicitans Have Centralians Screeching 'Uncle'

Centralia, Ill., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Their war cry - "Bzzzz! Bzzzz!" - wouldn't frighten a mouse. A baby's hand could crush a dozen. But mosquitoes today have Centralia crying "Uncle."

Fourteen husky managers of municipal soft ball teams last night voted to forfeit the rest of the season's games to the insects - - the third team at every contest - - unless there's an early frost.

Only the weather they agreed, could stop the mosquitoes. Human efforts to play out the schedule by spraying players and spectators with man made insecticide was partially successful but abandoned because of the cost.

This was the latest of a series of triumphs for the invading insect army. They have the city so helpless the mayor appealed to the state health department to stem the assault.

Uncommon in Illinois
Science's name for the mosquito is "aedes sollicitans." It is better known as the New Jersey salt marsh mosquito. Uncommon to Illinois, it is found a swamp near here in which to breed. Salt water from the oil wells seeps into the marsh.

The skeeters become vicious in July. Although large, they have no equal in negotiating screens. One farmer near town abandoned an attempt to harvest his truck garden crops because the mosquitoes drove him out of the field. Milk production was reduced because other farmers had to keep their cows in barns.

The city swimming pool closes prematurely at 7 p.m. because bathers provide too tender a bite. Drug stores long ago sold out of chemical repellants.

As a last resort, the town tried to nip the mosquitoes at their source - - drain the swamp. But the insects' blitz won there, too. They routed the laborers in three hours.

Dixon FFA Students Capture Nearly All First in "Ag" Show

Dixon Future Farmers of America made almost a clean sweep of the sheep classes at the annual Vocational Agriculture Fair held in Morrison yesterday. The Dixon students won five out of a possible six grand championships over all breeds and three out of the six reserve championships.

George Harms led in the total prizes won with first for aged ram, first for ewe lamb, first for yearling ewe, first pen of three lambs, second in aged ewe and second in ram lamb. He also won four grand championships and two reserve championships in the classes.

Dixon Girl Wins
Ethel Atkinson, Dixon's only girl student of vocational agriculture, made a creditable showing for a beginner by winning grand champion aged ewe and reserve champion aged ram. In addition to the championships she won first aged ewe, second aged ram, third pen of three, fourth ewe lamb and fifth ram lamb.

Robert Moeller, showing for the first time, won fourth aged ewe, fifth ewe lamb, and fifth pen of three.

Edwin Levan entered but one sheep in the yearling ewe class and won fourth place. Dale Bowers, another beginner, won seventh on his single ewe lamb entry.

Many favorable comments were made both by the judges, P. M. Finn of DeKalb and by the on-lookers in regard to the quality of sheep exhibited by the Dixon students.

Swine Class
Dixon was represented in the purebred swine class by three students all showing Chester Whites. Lewis Whorley, a beginner in swine project work, made the startling record of winning first place boar, first place gilt and first place litter. This represented clean sweep in one of the most competitive classes of the entire swine show. To top this distinction, Lewis also won the grand championship boar over all six breeds exhibited from some 25 high schools in this section.

Lewis has previously won a grand championship on his boar at the Lee county Fair. This is regarded as an outstanding

Hornswoggled

Chicago, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Thirty-three women from the fashionable North Shore learned today their fur coats had been stored for the summer at the sign of the three balls instead of in moth balls. The naming of the coats for a total of $1,700, fraction of their value, became known through reorganization proceedings in Federal court. The women had taken their coats for storage to an Evanston cleaning establishment. An employee took them to a pawnshop and pocketed the loans.

William O. Burns, an attorney appointed by the Federal court to handle the reorganization, said the employee had been dismissed, the new management was making a profit, it "and we feel sure the court will grant our petition to recover the coats."

Illinois Northern Utilities Co. Seeks Permit to Use Natural Gas

Application with the Illinois Commerce Commission for authority to substitute natural gas for manufactured gas in Dixon and ten other communities served by the Illinois Northern Utilities Company, was made by the company today according to George B. The natural gas supply will originate in the oil fields of Texas and Arkansas and would be delivered through the 20-inch main of the Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America, which was constructed about a

New Excise Taxes Proposed Today by Senate Committee

Would Add 400 Million Revenue to Record- Breaking Levies

Washington, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A senate finance subcommittee agreed today on a new schedule of excise taxes which members said would add approximately $400,000,000 to the $3,503,900,000 tax bill.

The subcommittee, composed of Senators Brown (D-Mich.) and Danaher (R-Conn.) reported its finding to the full committee.

Both Brown and Danaher declined to reveal details of the new schedule. Brown said, however, that "we increased some existing taxes and provided for a few more."

The excise taxes are those imposed generally upon manufacturers.

Senators opposing any change in the existing community property regulations of eight states forced reconsideration today of the committee's vote to prevent husbands and wives from dividing their income for tax purposes.

Eight States Listed
Under the laws of Texas, Louisiana, Arizona, New Mexico, California, Idaho, Nevada and Washington, husbands and wives may divide their taxable income and thus, in many cases, reduce their tax obligation. For instance, a husband earning $20,000 and a wife having an income of $2,000 could file a return for $11,000. Such a procedure would make their total taxes lower than if each income were reported in separate returns.

The finance committee voted 13 to 5 Monday to require the spouse receiving the income to file the return on it, but Senator Connally (D-Tex.) and others promptly announced they would make an effort to reverse the committee decision.

Consideration Near End
Nearing the end of its consideration of the $3,503,900,000 tax measure, the committee also arranged to receive a suggestion for a "selective sales tax on luxury articles."

The subcommittee also was working on a form of franchise tax to be imposed on radio stations in lieu of the house-approved levy on radio time sales.

A number of the house approved "nuisance taxes" were accepted with little change. At present total of $3,503,900,000, however, the senate committee measure still was $267,200,000 over the house bill and was $3,900,000 over the original revenue goal set by the ways and means committee.

Identity of Slain Woman Is Mystery

Chicago, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The identity of a young woman whose body has been viewed by more than a thousand persons remained as much a mystery today as a week ago when she was found strangled to death.

The victim was about 25 years old, weighed 120 pounds, had smooth brown hair, and brownish gray eyes. Her body was found near the Northwestern railroad station in the Rogers Park district.

Mrs. Frank Barnhill of Peru, Ill., who has been searching for her daughter, Lucille Stokvis, viewed the body at the county morgue yesterday. After 15 minutes she turned away, torn by uncertainty.

She said that the victim "looks a great deal like my girl," but that there were at least two dissimilarities—the position of a scar on the right knee and the appearance of the teeth.

Six women identified the strangulation victim last week as their friend and later two other persons said they were sure that she was a Chicago woman who has been missing since September. Police Capt. John McGinnis said that the identifications proved erroneous.

Illinois Northern Utilities Co. Seeks Permit to Use Natural Gas

Application with the Illinois Commerce Commission for authority to substitute natural gas for manufactured gas in Dixon and ten other communities served by the Illinois Northern Utilities Company, was made by the company today according to George B. Fluhr, vice president at the Dixon head offices. The natural gas supply will originate in the oil fields of Texas and Arkansas and would be delivered through the 20-inch main of the Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America, which was constructed about a year ago a short distance south of Dixon. The new gas with higher heating value than manufactured gas would enable the utilities company to lower the rates to the customers, it was stated. The change over of appliances would be made at the company's expense. The work of installing the mains and equipment will begin as soon as the Commerce Commission authority is obtained, and the necessary materials can be assembled. Vice President Fluhr reported.

Evicted Woman Gives Birth to Her 11th Son

Chicago, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Mrs. Jean Wagner, 35, gave birth to her 11th child today and for the 11th time it's a boy.

The event occurred just a day after Mrs. Wagner and her 10 other sons were evicted from their flat for rent arrearage and her husband, John, was found dazed and ill on a highway near Joliet.

Wagner collapsed while seeking help for his family and was taken to a Joliet hospital.

Mrs. Wagner and her baby, who weighs eight pounds, 12 ounces, were reported doing well. Her other children are Edward, 14; Robert, 13; John, 12; James, 11; Ronald, 9; William, 8; Wayne, 5; Daniel, 3; Timothy, 2; and Terrence, 1.

Premier of Australia Resigns His Position

Sydney, Australia, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, who has been engaged in a bitter quarrel with the Labor party over his desire to go to London, resigned today, and Arthur W. Fadden, the deputy prime minister, was chosen to succeed him.

Earlier the British and Australian governments had agreed that an Australian minister other than the prime minister would go to London to represent Australia in empire war councils. Whether this would be Menzies, now that he is an ordinary minister, still was doubtful.

FDR Statement Will Clarify Situation on OPM and OPCS Conflict

Washington, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The White House said today that President Roosevelt would have a formal statement for his press conference tomorrow clarifying the situation regarding conflicting jurisdiction over priorities between the Office of Production Management and the Office of Prices & Civilian Supply.

Japan's Envoy In Washington Seeks Parley With F.D.R.

Washington, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A personal message from the Japanese prime minister to President Roosevelt was delivered to the chief executive today by Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, the Japanese ambassador.

Nomura came to the White House after days of rapidly developing tension growing out of the conflict of Japanese and American policies in the Pacific.

He conferred at the White House with the president and Secretary of State Hull. Before the conference, however, it was reported that the envoy would discuss with Roosevelt the strained relations between the two countries.

Asked specifically whether the message he carried related to American oil shipments to Russia, Nomura replied he did not think so.

Requested Conference
The ambassador requested the conference. It was learned, presumably on instructions from Tokyo. The Japanese government has exhibited increasing concern over any decision Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill may have reached on the Far East, and there has been resentment at the dispatch of American war supplies to China and Soviet Russia.

The Japanese embassy declined to say whether Nomura would present a formal communication from his government, and no information was forthcoming as to specific questions which the ambassador might take up with the president.

Major Issue Created

During the past few days the Japanese government has created a major issue out of the shipment of American gasoline and oil to Vladivostok, the Soviet Pacific port which is almost encircled by Japanese islands.

The major friction between the United States and Japan, however, stems from the Japanese policy of Asiatic expansion—which started with the conquest of Manchuria and the invasion of China in July, 1937, and more recently has extended threateningly into the rich South Pacific area.

Japan's major objections to American policies include aid to China, the refusal to countenance Japan's scheme for a "Greater East Asia co-prosperity sphere," and a long list of economic measures, climaxed by the freezing of Japanese assets here, which virtually paralyzed all

Anti-Communists in France Taken Into Custody by Score

Condition of Two Victims of Would-Be Assassin Reported Critical

Versailles, German-occupied France, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Authorities of German-occupied France made a sweeping round up of enemies to the regime today in the wake of the Laval-Deat assassination attempt and by mid-afternoon had placed more than 300 persons in "protective custody", some of them from the very ranks of the newly mobilized anti-bolshevik legion.

In Paris, the first three so-called communists to be convicted by special courts were executed. Authorities apparently feared that the anti-bolshevik legion, formed to fight Russia alongside Germany, contains many more members who, like Pierre Laval's youthful assassin, Paul Colette, had joined purposely to be able to get at the French leaders favoring strong collaboration with Germany.

Today's arrests were made in Paris and Versailles while both Laval and Marcel Deat lay seriously ill in hospitals with grave bullet wounds.

The red-headed Colette told an investigating magistrate that he was a follower of General Charles de Gaulle and that he was glad he had hit the collaborationist politicians.

Asked why he shot the Frenchmen Laval and Deat instead of high German officers present at the conference, Colette said he was a follower of General Charles de Gaulle and that he was glad he had hit the collaborationist politicians.

Minimum Pensions of $30 Proposed

Washington, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A special senate committee recommended to congress today liberalization of $30 monthly to all unemployed persons over the age of 60.

The committee also proposed that combined employer-employee payroll taxes be boosted to 6 per cent by Jan. 1, 1944, a level which would not be reached under present law until Jan. 1, 1949. At present employers and employees each pay 1 per cent.

The extended benefits urged by the committee, named to investigate the government's old age pension setup, would cost an estimated $4,000,000,000 annually.

Under present law, the age minimum for pension and insurance beneficiaries is 65.

Illinois Soldiers, Outnumbered 2 to 1, Seek to 'Save' Railroad

With the Second Army in Arkansas, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton's 33rd division (Illinois) sought today to "save" an important railroad link in south Arkansas against the offensive of a special service corps force which outnumbered his 20,000 troops more than two to one.

Lawton's men wore the blue colors of Almat. The attacking force, led by Seventh Corps Commander Maj. Gen. Robert C. Richardson, Jr., temporarily carried the red standard of Kotkin. The red force included New York's 27th division, the 35th division of Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, the 75th artillery brigade of Tennessee and the bulk of Ohio's 107th cavalry regiment.

In the eyes of the umpires, the problem rested on the theory that a greatly superior force would be required to dislodge the blues from their network of creeks in which they had established themselves to prevent the "cutting" of the Missouri Pacific railroad between Camden and Gordon.

The reds were given 24 hours in which to do the job.

Fighting Ceases in Iran: Germans Near Leningrad

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Telegraph Special Service)

Another Anglo-Russian sensation of the near future is likely to be certain of a joint fighting front in the Caucasus, or so it seems to me - a move which will be hastened if the Germans continue to advance eastward along the coast of the Black sea.

The nazi threat is emphasized in the report from Berlin today that the invaders have captured the industrial railway center of Zaporozhe, east of the lower Dnieper river. The significance of this lies in the fact that Hitler's troops should have effected a crossing of this great stream in sufficient force to take a big city.

The establishment of a joint front is logical strategy in view of the allied occupation of Iran (Persia) which gives the British an open road into Russia. That left flank of the soviet defenses, running through the Caucasus between the Black sea and the Caspian, must be protected at all hazards. The reasons are these:

1. First off, Persia is the key-stone for control of the whole Near East and Middle East. It would be a disaster for the allies if Hitler got it.

2. The Russians must hold the ports on the east coast of the Black sea unless they are to lose control of that vital water altogether.

3. Since the Caucasus is the gateway into Persia, and thence to the open sea, it's one of Russia's lifelines, and may become the chief route for supplies from America and other sources.

4. The Caucasus also provides a door to Turkey, and it is essential from the allied standpoint that the Turks shouldn't come under Hitler's domination.

5. Quite apart from Persia's oil, the Caucasus has wells which would be worth more to the nazi chief than gold or principalities at this juncture when there is danger that the wheels of the German war machine may go dry for lack of lubricants.

The sending of such an expeditionary force into the Caucasus may be the first major assistance the British will give the Reds on land. Moscow has been pressing England to create a diversion, other than the bombing of Germany, to relieve the nazi pressure on the Russian front.

Now the creation of a worthwhile diversion is easier said than done. Most military experts hold that it would be foolhardy for Britain to attempt an invasion of western Europe while the nazis remain so strong. It would be silly to believe that the astute German high command has overlooked the possibility of such a move and left itself unprotected along the English channel.

A British attempt at a major landing might result in utter

Thoroughbred

Philadelphia, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Duke was just an 18-month-old mongrel dog but he had the heart of a thoroughbred.

Chained to a garage in the rear of Mary Denofa's home, he saw the house in flames and barked a warning that sent his 27-year-old mistress out the front door to satisfy his curiosity.

Miss Denofa, still in the building, Duke broke his collar and hurtled through the wall of flames.

Miss Denofa, stood outside and wept as she watched him appear at windows after racing from room to room with his shaggy hair blazing.

The dog was unconscious when the fire subsided. Horribly burned, he had to be destroyed.

It seems virtually certain that a secure route for British and American material aid for Russia in her war with Germany, and possibly for British troops as well, is to be opened up across Iran to Russia's Caspian sea and Caucasus areas.

At the time of his transfer, Wavell was the subject of considerable gossip to the effect that he was in semi-disgrace because, his sweep into Libya was followed by reverses from Germany reinforced axis troops and Australian criticism of the Greek and Crete campaigns.

By declining to give the House of Commons an explanation, British Prime Minister Churchill let Wavell "take it," so to speak, and the general himself kept silent.

Today, the fact that his Indian command is handling the Iranian situation appears to be both an explanation of the past and a tip-off of the future.

Old Capital of Czars Facing Danger

BULLETIN

Moscow, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Russian forces have blown up the great Dnieper river dam, industrial pride of the soviet revolution, it was announced officially tonight.

"We blew up the dam," said official spokesman S. A. Lozovsky, "so as not to allow this first child of the soviet five year plans to fall into the hands of the Hitler bandits."

The Dnieper dam, located just south of Dnepropetrovsk on the lower part of the river where German forces now are entrenched, was the first great construction project of the soviet union.

The dam supplied hydroelectric power for a large sector of the industrial Ukraine.

(By The Associated Press)
German troops storming toward Leningrad were reported within 32 miles of the old czarist capital late today, while on the Middle East war front, all fighting ceased in the four-day-old invasion of Iran (Persia) by British-Russian forces.

Already proclaimed "in terrible danger", Leningrad was being defended by hastily mobilized volunteers in a people's army fighting alongside regular Red Army troops, and inside the great industrial city a third line of defenders manned street barricades.

On the southern front, the Germans said masses of Russian infantry attempted to cross back to the west bank of the Dnieper river and had been chopped down by German artillery.

Only on the central front, guarding Moscow, did the Russians present an optimistic picture. Soviet dispatches said counter-attacking Red army troops had smashed two successive German defense lines in the Gomel area, about midway between Smolensk and Kiev.

Simultaneously, soviet Marshal Semeon Budenny issued a dramatic appeal to besieged Russian forces at Odessa to defend that Black Sea port "to the last drop of blood."

Iranians Ask Armistice
In Iran, a new cabinet was said to have asked Britain and Russia for an armistice to avoid further bloodshed.

A British broadcast, noting the end of hostilities, said the allied

Britain's Grand Strategy Shown In Wavell Move

By PAUL K. LEE
Associated Press Cable Staff
When General Sir Archibald P. Wavell was transferred suddenly on July 2 from Britain's Middle East command to India, there was widespread talk that this most successful British general had been kicked upstairs.

Now, eight weeks later, the transfer has fallen snugly into place like a curiously shaped piece in a great jigsaw puzzle, filling out an important segment in the panorama of the war and of British grand strategy.

With Wavell in command of the British forces, the British-Russian thrust against Iran appears on the verge of success in the fourth day of a smoothly operating invasion like that with which Wavell dumb-founded the Italians in Libya.

Route Virtually Sure
It seems virtually certain that a secure route for British and American material aid for Russia in her war with Germany, and possibly for British troops as well, is to be opened up across Iran to Russia's Caspian sea and Caucasus areas.

At the time of his transfer, Wavell was the subject of considerable gossip to the effect that he was in semi-disgrace because, his sweep into Libya was followed by reverses from Germany reinforced axis troops and Australian criticism of the Greek and Crete campaigns.

Moultrie Prosecutor Get's Month's Delay

Sullivan, Ill., Aug. 28—(AP)—Rodney A. Scott, Moultrie county state's attorney, won't climb into a soldier's uniform until next month at least.

Scott, elected in 1940, had been slated for induction tomorrow, but draft officials reported the county's August quota had been filled with the enlistment of Sidney M. Cool of Sullivan.

However, Scott remains No. 1 on the list and will be included in the September contingent provided there are not enough volunteers to fill the quota.

Maximum temperature ever recorded in the U. S. was 134 degrees at Death Valley, California, on July 10th, 1913

Tanks Overrated, Says Commanding Officer 3rd Army

With Third Army in Louisiana, Aug. 28—(AP)—Declaring tank power has been overrated in this country, officers of the Third Army said American soldiers were being taught to keep up their fighting courage even while looking into the spouting guns of an enemy tank roaring across a battle field.

"For every weapon man ever invented," declared Lieut. General Walter Krueger, commander of the Third Army, "there has been adequate defense devised to cope with it."

In war time, he said, infantry units must stand steadfastly in the front line, and should tanks shove through, they must hold firm until steel puncturing artillery fire can be rushed into place.

"When thus cut off from their food and gas supply," Krueger continued "tanks will either have to fight their way out quickly or be destroyed by the concentrated fire of the defenders."

Although other weapons performed in the initial phases of the Third Army's maneuvers just completed, every soldier had an opportunity to witness the handicaps as well as advantages of tanks.

"Facing armored forces at close range has largely reduced the popular impression that tanks defy defense," officers said.

While tanks in themselves are far from invincible, it was explained, their addition to the battle team of infantry, cavalry and other fighting elements gives the entire battle combination a more deadly punch.

Extend Time Limit for Applications for Welfare Posts

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 28—(AP)—The time limit for filing applications for county welfare jobs under the aid to dependent children program was extended to next Monday at midnight, the state Merit System Council announced last night.

The deadline, originally set for midnight last Tuesday, was extended after a last minute rush of applications, nearly a thousand of them being received after the original period closed, brought the total applicants thus far to 5,000.

The council announced in extending the filing period that there were still some county jobs for which no applications were filed.

The examination date was moved back from Sept. 6 to Sept. 13. The $8,000,000 a year child aid program was still scheduled to begin operation Oct. 1.

Answer to Appeals

The last minute rush of applications was attributed by Merit System Council employees to personal appeals for applicants by Governor Green and council President Robert L. Hunter after a checkup on Aug. 13 had revealed only 900 applicants for the 400 county welfare jobs.

After examinations, county registers of eligible candidates will be set up by the merit council, which will certify the three highest ranking applicants for each county job to an advisory committee of that county headed by the county judge. The committee will recommend one of the three applicants but state Welfare Director Rodney H. Brandon will make the appointment.

1941 Model Dehydrated Potato Is Introduced

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—The military genius which developed the "jeep" automobile, the long range bombardment airplane and the Garand rifle came out today with the 1941 model dehydrated potato.

The war department reported that much progress has been made in recent months in condensing various foods so that troops in the field will be sure to get vitamin-enriched meals.

"Take the white potato for example," said a department report on the subject. "Extensive research in Chicago by experts attached to the army quartermaster corps' research laboratory has done wonders for the ordinary spud."

"This year's dehydrated potato has about the same taste and food value as the 140 model, but, according to experts, it has a better color when mashed."

Almost 500 million people speak the Chinese language.

Mrs. Anna Warren (1864-1941)
Mrs. Anna McBride Warren died at Paw Paw, Ill., on August 22, 1941 after an illness of about ten weeks.

As was her custom she had made a spring journey to visit the homes and families of several of her children. She returned on Decoration Day to attend to duties which she had performed on that day for many years. Shortly afterwards she was stricken with the serious illness which caused her death.

Mrs. Warren was born near Paw Paw, December 17, 1864; the daughter of George Runyan McBride, and Elizabeth Catherine Baker McBride. She was the sister of Maggie and Frank McBride.

Her father moved here from Danville, Pennsylvania in 1856. Her mother, the oldest child of Ira and Sarah Baker, was born at Delhi, Ill. The Baker family lived in Chicago for a time and in 1848 moved to the vicinity of Paw Paw which was known favorably to early settlers because of the fertility of the soil, the excellent timber—and an important item in those days—healthful water in abundance.

Mrs. Warren attended the rural school near her home, the Teachers' Institute and Classical Seminary at East Paw Paw, and later Naperville college, now known as the North Central college, Naperville, Ill., from which she returned to teach school in this vicinity.

She was married November 6, 1884, to James Warren, who came here from eastern Ontario, Canada, in 1875. The Rev. S. B. Gilbert, then pastor of the Baptist church, of which she was a member, performed the marriage.

Her children and her grandchildren treasured many happy memories of the home which she and Mr. Warren made. Surviving Mrs. Warren are, one daughter, Mrs. Grace Larabee of Champaign, Ill.; four sons, George Edward of La Grange, Ill.; Frank Baker of Youngstown, Ohio; Thomas James of Miami, Fla.; and Winfred Field of Pittsburgh, Pa. One son, Louis, died at the age of six. Others surviving are eleven grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, one nephew, George McBride, one uncle, Joseph Baker of Santa Anna, Calif., and many cousins—members of the McBride and Baker families. Mr. Warren's brother, Michael, of Cornwall, Ontario, and his daughter Rita and son Edward; and members of many families—most of whom are living in Canada or California.

One of Mrs. Warren's outstanding activities was her devotion to the Baptist church, which she joined in her youth. She had an active part in the work of the church during her entire lifetime, having served at various times, and for long periods, as clerk of the church, and as superintendent of the Sunday school classes. She was an especially gifted instructor.

At the time of her death she was teacher of an advanced class of Bible students, was a member of the board of deacons, and had served as a member of the Centennial committee.

It was her great disappointment that she missed the centennial on June 22-26, 1941. Her last illness prevented her doing so.

During the World war, Mrs. Warren was an interested and energetic worker in the local Red Cross. She was a member of the Eastern Star and Rebekah lodges, and was active in the work of both orders.

Neighborly and charitable activities occupied much of Mrs. Warren's time, and her rugged health and boundless energy enabled her to continue until the last.

Her devotion to her large family of children and grandchildren is widely known both among themselves and in the many distant communities in which they reside. Her cheerful and forceful character has been an inspiration and guide. She has served family, church, neighbor, and community in countless ways during her entire life.

She never ceased to plan ahead, to add to her broad fund of general information. She was possessed of an unrelenting, driving force to improve her mind and to be a better person.

Friendliness, kindness, and cheerfulness endeared Mrs. Warren to friends, relatives, and associates. She had traveled widely to all distant parts of the nation, but her life was devoted to this community into which she was born, in which she lived, and which she served in so many ways.

Linkswomen Receive Awards at 1941 Round-Up

Pictured above are five women golfers of the Dixon Country club, who shared in the season's prizes at last evening's Round-Up dinner, climaxing event of the 1941 links season. The quintet posed for a Telegraph photographer, just before teeing off yesterday afternoon in an 18-hole match that included nine holes of "crazy" golf.

The players shown here are (left to right): Mrs. Carl Plowman, runner-up in the consolation flight of the June contest; Mrs. Gunnar Nilsson, sports chairman for 1941 and runner-up in a flight of the June contest; Mrs. George Beier, who won the consolation flight of the championship tournament; Miss Marion Davies, winner of the 1941 championship contest; and Mrs. Eldon Myers, winner of the June contest consolation flight.

Mrs. Floyd Smith, who with Mrs. Plowman won the recent two-ball foursome event; Mrs. C. A. Buchner, runner-up in the championship tourney; and Miss Elsie Neff, June contest winner, who is visiting in Texas, were not present for the picture.

FEMININE GOLFERS CONCLUDE 1941 SEASON WITH ROUND-UP DINNER, ELECTION, PROGRAM

Awarding of prizes for the year, election of new officers, and a program arranged by Mrs. Gunnar Nilsson, retiring sports chairman, occupied 25 linkswomen of the Dixon Country club, who met at the clubhouse last evening for a 7 o'clock dinner, climaxing their annual Round-Up.

A silver tray was presented to Miss Marion Davies, victor in the women's championship tourney, concluded on Tuesday. Mrs. C. A. Buchner was runner-up in the final round.

Other awards were made to Mrs. George Beier, winner of the consolation flight in the championship tournament; Mrs. Nilsson, runner-up in the June contest; Mrs. Eldon Myers, who won the consolation flight of the June contest, and Mrs. Carl Plowman, runner-up.

Mrs. Plowman was eligible for a second prize with Mrs. Floyd Smith, the pair having finished ahead of the field in a recent two-ball foursome tourney. Miss Elsie Neff, June contest winner, is visiting in Texas and could not be present.

New Chairman

Mrs. L. C. Shoaf was elected sports chairman for 1942 to succeed Mrs. Nilsson, and Mrs. Eldon Myers to serve as secretary and treasurer, succeeding Mrs. Beier. The Wednesday nighters chose Mrs. Ray Wilbur as their new chairman, succeeding Miss Bettie Haines.

Additional favors were presented during the evening for accomplishments in Round-Up events of yesterday afternoon. In nine holes of "crazy" golf at the conclusion of the day's play, familiar fairways and putting carpets took on new and deceptive contours that caused scores to soar.

Miss Davies carded low gross on the first nine holes, 47. Mrs. Joe Miller had low net and Mrs. Homer K. Millard was credited with low putts, 15. Those receiving favors in "crazy" golf were Mrs. Nilsson, Mrs. Plowman, Mrs. E. E. Barrowman, Mrs. John W. Mills, Mrs. Kenneth Detweiler, Mrs. Shoaf, and Mrs. Buchner.

An indoor putting contest, following the dinner, resulted in a three-way tie between Mrs. Barrowman, Mrs. Fred Lewis, and Miss Avis Toot. Miss Toot and Miss Helene Krug were winners in a pre-dinner match for the Wednesday nighters.

Moving Pictures

Moving pictures of several local golfers, as well as nationally-known club welders, shown by Pro Ralph Stonehouse, who was a special guest at dinner, and games of bingo concluded the program.

Although last evening's event formally closed the feminine golfers' 1941 season, they decided that if September continues to provide

Mrs. Gunnar Nilsson, Mrs. George Beier, Mrs. Carl Plowman, Mrs. Carl Buchner, Mrs. L. C. Shoaf, Mrs. H. K. Millard, Mrs. Joe Miller, Mrs. E. E. Barrowman, Mrs. Kenneth Detweiler, Mrs. Leo Miller, Mrs. George Joyce, Mrs. John W. Mills, Mrs. Harold Coss, Mrs. Fred Lewis, Miss Marion Davies, Mr. Stonehouse, and the following Wednesday nighters: Mrs. Ray Wilbur, Mrs. Oscar Johnson, Mrs. Mark Keller, Jr., and the Misses Lucille Stauffer, Helene Krug, Jane Hofer, Dorothy Stitzel, and Lois Stimling.

Good Politician

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Governor Green is going to fulfill a campaign promise in Fulton county tomorrow night by playing second base at a softball game. Rep. Reed Cutler, Lewis-town Republican, who will be the governor's host at a church benefit in Canton, said the date for the softball game was made last year when Green played a softball game at the Fulton county village of Avon while campaigning for the governorship. "If we elect you governor you will come back and play ball with us," the Fulton county ballplayers asked. The governor readily agreed. The field at Avon won't be available for the governor's repeat performance tomorrow night so the game will take place at Canton between the Kiwanis clubs of Canton and Lewis-town. Cutler, who says he will umpire, described the governor as a "good politician." "He's going to play an inning with each team," Cutler explained.

Sacrifice, Clear Thinking, Wisdom Need, Says Green

Hillsboro, Ill., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Governor Green, speaking at an outing of the old settlers' association, said today that "sacrifice, clear thinking, calm judgment and wise action" are urgent needs of American citizens in a threatened democracy. The governor said in his speech prepared for the settlers' celebration that: "We are confronted today with the vital need of clearthinking, calm judgment and wise action; all inspired by the truest sense of patriotism. It is by devotion to the ideals of citizenship that we can best answer the challenge to our republican form of government. 'The willingness and unselfishness with which sacrifices are made, both in the cause of national defense and of decent government, fall within the true spirit of good citizenship. 'We should never forget that our nation had its beginnings in the midst of discouraging dangers, and grew out of trial and trouble. 'There was little of repose or security for the settlers of Montgomery county, and there was much grim toil and high risk. Every forward step they took was in the face of threatening forces'.

The War Today

catastrophe. Raids of moderate size can be carried out, of course, and ultimately the grand invasion can and will be attempted if Hitler is sufficiently weakened to make the attempt feasible. Here we may well note that we have a rather unusual situation in the alliance between Britain and the Reds. John Bull and the Russian bear make strange bedfellows. It is an ironic circumstance that it was the bolsheviks who graced the wheels of Hitler's war chariot by signing the non-aggression pact with him. Then the Muscovites rendered the fuhrer both moral and material support until he turned on them. It is safe to assume that while the British naturally will do all possible to aid Russia to the mutual benefit of the alliance, neither sentimental nor political motives will enter into the transactions. What I mean is that the British aren't likely to do for the bolsheviks what they did for Greece when, to make good their bond, they sent a military expedition, knowing full well that it must meet defeat, barring unexpected help from Olympus.

Defense of the Caucasus, however, is just plain business. When winter shuts down on Her Hitler he isn't going to sit down and wait to be frozen to death. He's going to keep on attacking at any feasible points. The shores of the Black sea provide the most likely terrain. The British probably have a quarter million allied troops in the Near East and these must be pretty well equipped now, thanks in large degree to American shipments. They also have at least half a million Indian soldiers ready for action, and another half million will be under arms soon. Certainly Britain could provide a very useful contingent for the defense of the Caucasus. And listen! The famous General Wavell, commander in chief in India and the Middle East, had two years experience in trans-Caucasia with the Anglo-Russian forces during the World war. That's worth more than a knock in the eye to the allies.

Lindbergh and Wheeler to Speak in Ball Park Outside Oklahoma City

Oklahoma City, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh and Senator Burton K. Wheeler will make their non-interventionist address in a ball park outside the city tomorrow night, since the council refused use of the Municipal auditorium for the purpose. The council canceled a reservation for the auditorium after local protests to Lindbergh's appearance there. Wheeler was booked to speak after the council acted, and while offers for rally sites poured in on the local American First Committee, the sponsor. Lending support to the arrangements was Gov. Leon C. Phillips of Oklahoma, who declared: "I still believe in the old doctrine of free speech and if what he (Lindbergh) says is treason, why arrest him for it, but I think we ought to let a fellow be heard."

Gasoline Supplies In East to Be Cut 15% in September

Washington, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Ralph K. Davies, acting petroleum coordinator, announced today that gasoline supplies for filling stations in the east would be reduced 15 per cent in September compared with July.

Davies' testimony opened a senate investigation of threatened oil shortages. He presented a mass of figures which he said showed that the eastern coast faced an actual shortage of both gasoline and oil for heating and industry this winter.

The east coast faced a deficit of 27,000,000 barrels of petroleum products during the last four months of this year, Davies testified.

If present methods fail to eliminate danger of shutdowns for industry and home heating plants, Davies said officials were ready to operate a rigid rationing plan. But he added they hoped to avoid such drastic action.

Davies disputed rumors he said had been circulated that the shortage "is being played up to foster war psychology; that a shortage has been created artificially to assure passage of a pipeline bill" or that a shortage of gasoline "was deliberately precipitated."

Stokers Make Market for Illinois' Coal

St. Louis, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Stokers are rapidly recovering lost tonnage in St. Louis for Illinois coal, Smoke Commissioner Raymond R. Tucker said today in an analysis of the fuel situation under the city's anti-smoke law.

The ordinance prohibits the use of soft coal unless it is fired mechanically.

Last year St. Louis consumed 1,165,000 tons of smokeless fuel and approximately 3,335,000 tons of bituminous coal.

Tucker reported 7150 coal stokers were installed here in 1940, about three times as many as in any previous year, and the same rate of installation is being maintained.

The 1940-41 installations together open a market for nearly half a million tons of Illinois coal, he estimated.

Tucker leaves the smoke commissioner's office next week to join the faculty of Washington University's engineering school. May-William Dee Becker has promised there will be no let-up in enforcement of the smoke law by his successor.

Fighting Ceases

invasion had turned into a peaceful occupation.

Meanwhile, Iran's next door neighbor, Turkey, manifested increasing alarm over Germany's intentions. Axis quarters in Istanbul said Reichsmarshal Adolf Hitler has told Turkey he may soon need to use Turkish territorial waters in the Black sea—possibly for an attack on the Soviet port of Batumi, end of the pipeline from the great Soviet Baku oil fields.

These quarters said Hitler had assured the Turks, however, that he had no other demands.

Turks Show Uneasiness

Axis reports said the movement of German and Italian troops and warplanes into Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Greece—where they appeared to be menacing Turkish frontiers—was "purely a diversion" to worry the British. But the Turks still showed signs of deep uneasiness.

In France, authorities of the occupied zone made a sweeping roundup of enemies of the regime, amid an apparently rising tide of bitterness and hatred against the German conquest, and by mid-afternoon had taken more than 500 persons into "protective custody". Three men condemned yesterday were swiftly executed.

The brief war in Iran, directed by Britain's Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell who last winter drove the Italians out of Egypt, apparently resulted in few casualties and little more than token resistance by Iran's 190,000 troops.

Indian troops led by British officers were reported in control of Iran's three main outlets to the sea—Khorramshahr, Abadan and Bandar Shapur—after fighting across desert and marshlands in 130 degree heat.

Russian Cossacks striking down into Iran from the north were reported to have reached Turkman-chai, on the road to the capital city of Teheran.

Turks Close Thrace

In neighboring Turkey, meanwhile, nervousness over a possible invasion by German troops massed along the Greek-Turkish frontier was reflected in reports that the government had closed Thrace to all foreigners.

Latest advices from Ankara have pictured the Turks as deeply alarmed lest Hitler strike through Turkey in a move to counter the British-Russian thrust into Iran.

On the Russo-German war front, Adolf Hitler's armies were reported to have cut off rail supplies to two vital centers, Leningrad in the north and the great Black sea naval base of Sebastopol in the south, and the Russians acknowledged threats at both ends and the center of the vast front.

The Germans said Nazi forces pursuing retreating Russians east of Gomel, on the central front, had captured 2,200 prisoners as two mechanized divisions ripped deep into Red columns.

Round Up Legion Members

As a result of the shooting in Versailles yesterday of France's pro-Nazi former Vice Premier Pierre Laval, gravely wounded near the heart and in the throat, police of the German-occupied zone began a roundup of members of the anti-Communist Legion recruited for service against Russia.

Authorities were seeking to determine whether Paul Colette, 29-year-old Legionnaire who shot Laval, had accomplices in the Legion's ranks.

In Paris, a special anti-Communist court handed down its first three death sentences.

A bulletin from the fuhrer's headquarters said two Red army mechanized divisions had been crushed and all but destroyed east yesterday's ceremony, Colette said: "Germans Doing Duty"

"Why would you want me to fire at a German officer? I have no reason to do that, because they are in France to carry out their duty."

Laval was reported to have been struck four times, including wounds near the heart and throat. Deat was hit in the throat and an intestine.

Colette, 29-year-old Norman who surrendered after the attack made by posing as a recruit to the anti-bolshevik legion, faced a quick military trial and almost certain execution under week-old anti-Communist regulations.

A description of how the assassination attempt occurred was given last night by Fernand de Brinon, Vichy representative in Paris. Laval, a former premier, one of the leaders in obtaining the armistice with Germany 13 months ago and active in raising France alongside Germany, talked to the men.

Story of Shooting "I had left the barracks," De Brinon said. "Laval and Deat were behind me. Suddenly five shots rang out."

(Reports of the wounds inflicted, however, indicated more than five shots were fired.) "I turned and saw Laval stumbling along and holding his side with legionsnaires all around him. 'I called my car quickly and rushed Laval to the Municipal hospital. In the other car we put Deat who never stopped protesting 'It's nothing, it's nothing'."

De Brinon then commented, "we are faced with a terroristic organization." Colonel Durvy, commander of the barracks, and a legionnaire named Besset also were reported hit by bullets.

Authorities said Colette told them he posed as a recruit for the sole purpose of killing Laval. The attack continued a wave of demonstrations, sabotage and attacks against the Germans in France. Germans warned that all as hostages for future attacks and the Vichy government issued regulations providing the death penalty for communist agitators.

Soldier Available if
He's Wanted for Accidental Shooting

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 28—(AP)—Edward Bunch, about 25, of Detroit, was in St. Joseph's hospital today suffering from a bullet wound which, Capt. Frank G. Waggett, chief of Fort Sheridan's military police, said was inflicted by the accidental discharge of Private Melvin Boyer's pistol.

Hospital attendants said that Bunch, shot in the stomach, was in critical condition.

Civil authorities placed Boyer in the keeping of Capt. Waggett on the latter's assurance the soldier would be available at any time.

Agreement Ends
Rockford Strike

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 28—(AP)—A joint union-management agreement, terms of which were not announced, pointed the way for a reopening today of the Mechanics Universal Joint plant, strike stalled since Aug. 20.

Agreement to end the strike, which affected 870 production workers, was announced last night by G. C. Gridley, company vice president, and Arthur W. Keene, Jr., president of local 225 of the CIO's United Automobile Workers of America.

Long negotiations embracing the company, the union and the National Defense Mediation Board preceded the strike call. Chief stumbling block had been a CIO demand for a union security clause. Both sides agreed to wage hikes.

Some 15 per cent of the output of the plant, a division of Borg-Warner Corp., was for direct defense contracts.

Two International Harvester Company plants—at Ft. Wayne, Ind., and Springfield, O.—ceased operations because of the strike which halted shipments to them of universal joints for trucks.

Amboy Schools in Readiness; First Sessions Tuesday

Faculties for Grades and High School Are Announced Today

Five new instructors have been employed by the board of education of School District No. 166 to fill vacancies created by resignations on the staff of Amboy Township high school. They and the veteran members of the faculty will meet their new classes Tuesday, for the first time in the school term of 1941-42.

Final registration for all students will be held at the high school building, Tuesday morning. Pupils should go directly to the study hall for an assembly at 8:40 a. m. Directions will be given there for registration according to Principal O. W. Funkhouser. Most of the students completed a program of studies at the pre-registration held last spring. They will be given an opportunity to make changes on their pre-registration program at the final registration next Tuesday.

The Book Exchange will be open all day tomorrow and Saturday.

Buses Operate Tuesday
The buses will operate Tuesday. Those students who will ride on the buses are urged to make arrangements to get to the school if they are not picked up by a bus Tuesday. An effort will be made to pick up all rural students on the buses but because of the incomplete routes, there may be instances where a student will not be picked up on the opening day. Permanent bus routes will be worked out during the first week or ten days and the co-operation of the students and parents will be appreciated. All of the school buses now meet state specifications.

New Faculty Members
The new instructors, their degrees and the subjects they will teach are: Jack Paul Swartz, B. M. music; Fern Ralbach, A. B. A. M. English; science; Dorothy Hankins, A. M., B. S. Miss Jane Reilly is the new registrar. Kenneth Eastman, librarian, W. T. Hanna, who has charge of the buildings and grounds and Henry Walters, custodian, are returning to their duties.

Three new teachers will greet students of Amboy Central grade school when it opens Tuesday morning, September 2, according to an announcement made by Superintendent Robert A. Reinboth. They are Miss Helen Umsdenstock of Hampshire, Ill., Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Brown of Carlinville, Ill., and Miss Lucile Pape of Moorhead, Wis.

Members of the board of education elected Miss Umsdenstock and Miss Brown at a meeting held Friday evening. Miss Pape was elected earlier in the summer to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Miss Dorothy Tourillott, the primary teacher.

Elect Two Friday
Miss Mary Sanford resigned last Friday to accept a position in Glen Ellyn. This vacancy will be filled by Miss Umsdenstock who will teach upper grade Reading and English. She was graduated from Northern Illinois State Teachers' College in DeKalb in the class of 1941 with a B. Ed. degree.

Miss Brown will teach the fourth grade, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Jeanette Welty who resigned to accept a position in Allegan, Mich. Miss Brown taught the past four years in Trenton, Ill. She is a graduate of Arkansas State Teachers' College where she received her B. Ed. degree. She attended the University of Illinois this summer and did work for her Master's degree.

Jack Paul Swartz, new music instructor at Amboy Township high school, will teach band music from 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock each morning. This continues the work started last year under the direction of Charles Guilford.

America Secretly Committed to War Sen. Brooks Says

In an address delivered at the annual Trask Bridge picnic near Rockford Wednesday, United States Senator C. Wayland Brooks of Illinois charged that President Roosevelt has secretly committed the United States to active participation in the war with Great Britain against Hitlerism.

His speech was followed by an appeal by Frank Smothers, of the foreign staff of the Chicago Daily News, that the United States forsake "halfway measures" in opposing axis powers.

Both speakers addressed a sober-faced crowd which gave its entire attention to the speakers' subject. Bursts of handclapping marked the crowd's approval of statements, but there was no demonstration.

United In Defense
Brooks noted the "complete unity on the part of congress and the people in their determination to build a strong national defense."

"But we are confused when our president holds secret conferences on the battlements of a belligerent nation, where no member of the American press was privileged to be present to report the proceedings to the American people," he said.

Roosevelt, the speaker said, stated at the conclusion of the Atlantic conference with Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain that no new commitments were made.

"Our people were confused when our president told us that there were no new commitments made and then heard the prime minister of Great Britain, who signed a joint statement with him, say:

"You will perhaps have noticed that the President of the United States and the British representative... have jointly pledged their countries to the final destruction of nazi tyranny. That is a solemn and grave undertaking. It must make good. It will be made good."

"Can any clear-thinking person feel that this does not mean our participation in a foreign war?" Brooks asked.

Simplification of Bass-Raising New Conservation Plan

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 28.—(AP)—State conservationists reported today they believe they've discovered a fact of life which will simplify the raising in natural surroundings of unusually large, healthy bass.

Dr. George W. Bennett, limnologist of the state natural history survey, said in a fish-raising experiment in Silver Lake in Fox Ridge state park, Cole county, had produced bass eight inches long two months after their fingerling stage.

Dr. Bennett said the Silver Lake experiment indicated that clean, clear water, controlled number of fish, and absence of excess plant life, and absence of excess plant life, had aided in producing a large lot of fish.

The naturalist said that the fish were placed in the lake, an artificial body of water, on June 17, shortly after the dam was closed and other fish in the creek stream supplying the lake poisoned. During the two months, no food was given the fish, and no plant life placed in the lake. "Today, the bass population has 'more than multiplied' and the fish are from three to eight inches long, Bennett said.

He said the experiment was conducted on the theory that too much competition for oxygen by plant life, and over-crowding of water by animal life tends to retard development of fish and keeps the majority of them under sized.

Fishing in Silver Lake is temporarily prohibited.

In Colorado, the timberline is at 10,000 feet in Alberta, Canada, it is at 7,000 feet.

Riding New Bomber Is Like Traveling Pitchback on Comet

Roller Coaster is Puny Thrill Writes AP Correspondent

(An Associated Press correspondent covering the war games in Arkansas was one of three reporters allowed to ride into action with the army's new dive bombers, put into use a week ago and employed for the first time today in simulated battle. This is his story.)

By JERRY T. BAULCH

With the Second Army in Arkansas, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Riding one of the new army dive bombers in a dawn attack today made the roller coaster at Coney Island seem like a puny thrill—it was like traveling pickaback on a comet.

After receiving pre-dawn instructions from the flight commander, Lieut. W. R. Purinton, at the Shreveport, La., base, the nine plane squadron thundered aloft. I rode in the gunner's cockpit of one of the squad planes with Lieut. Edward J. Walker at the controls.

Daylight came during the half hour we roared along at more than 200 miles an hour into south Arkansas.

Purinton rolled his plane as a signal and the dragonfly like machines fell into a staggered echelon. Then at 9,000 feet we peeled off.

My 25-year-old pilot threw open the flaps of his wings, slowed to what seemed a standstill and pushed the ship's nose straight down.

Belt Cut Into Stomach
It seemed as if the whole bottom had dropped out. The sudden fall would have catapulted me out of the cockpit had it not been for the sturdy safety belt which cut hard at my stomach.

Everything turned back for a moment. Then my senses returned. The pressure on my ears was terrific. I screamed as loud as I could to relieve it but I heard nothing except the deep roar of the motor, the high pitched whistle of the wind through the open flaps.

Walker had aimed the plane directly at his target and he held it speeding straight down at 300 miles an hour.

We didn't have real bombs today. But going through all the motions of a real attack, Walker pretended to lose his load after 6,000 feet of plummeting almost straight down.

Pull-Out Tougher
The pull-out at the end of the ride was tougher than the start. The plane straightened out and headed skyward, but my stomach and my senses tried to keep dropping earthward. The pressure of the change, for which humans ordinarily aren't designed, squeezed me double. I instinctively grabbed the gun turret to pull myself upright. Higher and higher we rose, my senses having to leap to keep with me.

Down below were the 102nd engineers (Manhattan) of the 27th New York division. Our attack theoretically had driven the enemy away so their infantry in assault boats could not storm across the Red river to protect their work of building a pontoon bridge across the 700-foot chasm.

Once again Walker prepared to dive. This time I grabbed the gun turret, knowing what was coming. The shock on my body and brain were less this time. I shouted in sheer glee.

We pointed skyward, sped toward nearby Hope and then moved over Rosston, where once more we became human catapults and then returned to our base.

Soy Bean Harvest Worth 170 Million

Chicago, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The highest soybean prices in four years, with Chicago quotations more than double those of a year ago, were regarded by market experts today as a virtual guarantee that farmers would attempt to harvest the largest crop on record when cutting begins next month.

They estimated that if prices did not recede and farmers harvested about 109,000,000 bushels as forecast in the latest government report, the new bean crop might have a market value close to $170,000,000 or almost $100,000,000 above last year.

Bean prices have risen more than 75 per cent since the first of the year. At $1.67 a bushel for old No. 2 yellow beans yesterday the price was 85 cents higher than a year ago.

Trade experts said the current attractive prices, which they attributed largely to war-induced demand for oil, now the most valuable product derived from bean crushing, probably would encourage producers to harvest a larger percentage of the soybean acreage for beans rather than hay.

The Aug. 1 condition of beans was estimated at 88 per cent of normal, second best, for the date on record and, if the expected acreage is harvested for beans, a crop of 109,000,000 bushels would be possible compared with 78,837,000 last year and the 1939 record of 91,272,000 bushels. More than 15 years ago production averaged less than 5,000,000 bushels.

Registration Increases
Preliminary registration shows an increase in enrollment for both the high school and grade school, according to Superintendent Traugher. The following number of students have signed their intention of attendance:

Seniors 27
Juniors 14
Sophomores 25
Total 86

The grade school likewise will have an increase of 10 due to the action of the boards of education of Rural School Districts Number 94 and 164. These schools will be closed and the students will be transported to Lee Center. Six students will attend from District No. 94 and four will attend from District No. 164. The action of these boards is in line with the new legislation on reorganization of school districts where the interests and welfare of the district may be bettered.

Transportation, as in the past, will be furnished both high school students and grade pupils in buses meeting the requirements of the state department as regards safety and convenience.

Boy Falls From Liner Unnoticed; Is Rescued

Los Angeles, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A 17-year-old mess boy who tumbled from an ocean liner which steamed on survived today to tell the story.

William Alfred leaned far over the deck rail of the liner Matsonia as it neared Los Angeles harbor. He fell into the ocean about five miles off Point Fermin.

No one saw his plunge in the fog or heard his cries. Alfred shed his outer garments and swam for nearly an hour.

Suddenly a navy boat loomed close out of the fog. He was pulled aboard and taken in a coast guard boat back to the Matsonia.

World War Aviator Given Federal Post

Washington, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Artemus L. Gates, noted World War flier and now president of the New York Trust Company, was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be assistant secretary of the navy for aeronautics.

This post has been vacant for several years and only recently the president filled a similar vacancy in the war department.

Gates joined the navy aviation branch in 1917 and served with the "northern bombardment group" in the World war.

Veterans Dig In For Battle In Golf Tourney

By EARL HILLIGAN

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 28.—(AP)—The old guard of amateur golf -- its ranks thinned by the charge of an amazing longshot legion -- dug in for a last ditch fight in the National Amateur championship today.

As the 45th classic swung into third round and quarter-final engagements, gone from the field club's divot-scattered battleground were such greats as Dick Chapman, Johnny Goodman and Johnny Fischer, ex-champions all, and genial Charley Yates, last American to take British amateur title.

Valiantly carrying on for the favorites' cause against mounting odds were such standouts as former titleholder and current favorite Marvin (Bud) Ward, Harry Todd, Pat Abbott and Ray Billows.

But lined up against them was a youthful brigade of brash and comparatively little known challengers -- Bob Reigel, Neil White, Skeel Reigel and Lou Jennings, to mention only a few -- whose daring play has made this scrap, in many respects, the liveliest in the United States Golf association's 45-year history.

Two Triumphs Yesterday
Ward, stout-hearted Spokane star who won this championship in 1939, blazed his way to two triumphs yesterday to become the only ex-titleholder still in the running.

With a performance burlawarding his position as favorite, Ward downed Alex Welsh of Rockford, Ill., defeated Art Atkinson of New York, 5 to 3. Then the Poughkeepsie star won, 4 to 3, from Lloyd Ramsey of Lexington, Ky.

Todd, the Texan who finished second to Ward in last month's western amateur, took a 4 and 3 win over Jim Lewis of Toledo then won eight of 10 holes to trim Matt Zadalis of Ralston, Neb., 9 and 8. His opponent this morning was Abbott, one-time movie extra from Los Angeles and 1938 finalist against Willie Turnesa.

Abbott had to travel the full 18 holes to out Johnny Vavra, Carlo Rapids, Ia., then defeated Wilford Wehrle of Chicago, semi-finalist last year, 3 and 2.

That brilliant quartet carried plenty of talent, but so did the more numerous "surprises" of this battle. Right up in front of the strong upset division were Skeel Reigel of Glendale, Calif., Bobby Reigel of Houston, Texas, and Louis Jennings from Portland, Ore.

Only Foreign Entry
Skeel Reigel put out the tourney's only foreign entry, Mario Gonzalez of Brazil, 2 and 1, and Grover Poole of Raleigh, N. C., 6 and 5. Bobby Reigel hung a 20-hole hick on Goodman, 1937 title winner and former open king; Jennings, the bank clerk who Ward thinks is a real comer, sent Defending Champion Dick Chapman to the sidelines by a 5 and 4 margin then eliminated Rod Bliss of Omaha, 4 and 3.

Standout scrap of the third round appeared to be the one involving Todd and Abbott. Billows was paired with Neil White of Port Chester, N. Y., 1940 southern amateur champion who looms as No. 1 darkhorse. White fired birdies on the 16th and 17th to win his second round battle, 2 and 1, from Dee Repligle of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Ward was matched with another unheralded entry, Glenn Oatman of Kansas City, Harry Haverstick of Lancaster, Pa., who scored a second round victory over the tourney medalist, Stewart (Skip) Hogan, 4 and 3.

Cincinnati's Chances for Part in Pennant Scramble Fade Last Night

By JUDSON BAILEY

The desperate hopes of the Cincinnati Reds for a miracle that would return them to a third straight World Series have been engulfed in the slow tide that seems to be carrying the Brooklyn Dodgers on its crest.

They had their best and perhaps last chance to break into the thick of the National League pennant scramble last night and failed, as Kirby Higbe whipped Johnny Vander Meer 4-2 before 30,000 fans at Ebbets field.

It was an important triumph for the Dodgers, preserving their game and a half margin over the St. Louis Cardinals, who beat the New York Giants in another night game 8-5.

But it was even more important for the Reds. They had won 16 of their last 20 games in a great late-summer surge and would have moved within 7½ games of first place if they had won.

Race to Finish
However, their loss dropped them to 9½ behind Brooklyn and 8 back of St. Louis, and proved to most people that the flag competition is going to continue as a two-club race right down to the finish.

The Cardinals had to come from behind to beat the Giants. The Redbirds made three costly errors in the early innings and Babe Young hit his 20th homer with one on. As the result Lefty Ernie White lasted only five innings. Then Harry Gumbert took over and pitched four scoreless innings in relief and the powerful Alexander of Burlington, N. C., was paired with Steve Kovach of Pittsburgh, who eliminated Yates and Fred Haas of New Orleans, both by 2 and 1 margins.

HOGAN AND SNEED FAVORED AS HERSEY GOLF MEET OPENS

Hershey, Pa., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Heavy early-week rains left a premium on long-hitting over the 7,000 yard Hershey Country club course today as a field of almost 100 golf professionals teed off in the four-day $5,000 Hershey open championship.

Horton Smith, the one time Joplin ghost, figured four 70's "ought to win" and this simply strengthened the favorite positions, held jointly by Ben Hogan, the Hershey professional, and Sam Snead, the West Virginia slugger.

Hogan, making his playing debut as the home professional, had at stake his record of finishing in the money in 53 consecutive tournaments. He leads the money winners of the professional circuit, for the year with $12,733 to date.

If Hogan can land near the top in the Hershey Open, the Tam-O-Shanter at Chicago, Atlantic City, (N. J.) Open, Hurst Invitation at Philadelphia and Providence, R. I. Open within the next month, he has a chance to beat Snead's record of $19,908 in total winnings.

New York, Aug. 28.—(The Special News Service) — Scoopie-Whoopie: If George Abrams looks good against NBA middle-weight champ Tony Zale Sept. 12 in Madison Square Garden, they'll tangle for Tony's title later in Chicago. . . . The winner to meet the guy who finishes on top in the Billy Soose-Ken Overlin fuss, thereby settling all the middle-weight mess. . . . Red Barber and Bob Elson, those silver tongues of the Brooklyn and Chicago ball parks, will team up on the World Series broadcast again this year.

Hit-and-Run
Eddie Joost has other National Leaguers in stitches these days wearing sun glasses to play the infield. . . . Submarines at the New London (Conn.) base may torpedo the Yale-Harvard regatta right out of the Thames next year. . . . Which is one way to stop the Ellis' losing streak, anyway. . . . Annual Picnic of W. C. T. U. Tuesday

(Contributed)
Ideal weather was a factor in the success of the annual picnic of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held Tuesday at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hobbs.

After the bountiful dinner, Mrs. Mary Strock, vice-president, conducted the business session. In the absence of the president, Rev. Helen Peters who has moved from the city, Rev. T. DeBoer, the new pastor of the Congregational church, voiced the opening prayer. Mrs. Strock conducted the devotion from the Psalms.

Mrs. C. P. Tibbets explained that sending five dollars for world work and a subscription to the Union Signal to a foreign missionary were the qualifications for a Light Line Union. The local union qualifies, and the missionary chosen is Miss Hazel Messer of India, who is a sister of Mrs. Eugene Moss of this city.

Officers elected for the coming year were as follows: president, Mrs. C. P. Tibbets; vice president, Mrs. Mary Strock; secretary, Mrs. Emma Hill, and treasurer, Miss Callie Morgan. Mrs. Ida Morgan was announced as a new member.

Rev. and Mrs. T. DeBoer sang to his guitar accompaniment, "Search or the Lost". Rev. DeBoer was guest speaker using the theme "Evangelism" and said in part: "Frances E. Willard declared the W. C. T. U. to be an organization with the purpose of setting up a standard rather than to get a following. The same is true of evangelism."

The need of evangelism is proven in the facts revealed by the religious survey, viz: the majority of our young people do not go to church; seven of the ten who go in early years leave after the age of fifteen; six out of the seven who leave do so without having accepted Christ. The F. B. I. reports that in the year 1940 a serious offense was committed in the U. S. A. every twenty-one seconds. The total of 1,517,926 major crimes included one premeditated murder every 44 minutes, a robbery every 10 minutes, an auto theft every 3 minutes, a burglary every 1 2-3 minutes and a larceny every 35 seconds. The crime bill was 15 billion dollars and the department of justice stated that 40 per cent of the crimes can be traced to alcohol.

The need in evangelism is a necessity of personal holiness and conviction and recognition of the power of the Holy Spirit.

The method of evangelism is the personal touch such as Jesus Himself used and taught. Go for them, win them one by one.

The law in evangelism is set forth in Psalms 126:5 and 6: "They that sow in tears shall reap in joy. He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him". Here we have activity, passion for lost souls, preaching the word and the results.

The new president, Mrs. Tibbets, announced the next meeting to be held Sept. 9th at 2:30 P. M. in the Methodist church parlors, and Mrs. Missman closed the happy and profitable afternoon with prayer.

Weekly Food and Marketing Letter by Mrs. Emily M. Lautz for Dixon Telegraph Readers

It seems only yesterday that your cooking school visitor was writing you about Fourth of July planning, and here we are with an "R" in the month, and fall days just around the corner.

This holiday I am assuming that you have emergency supplies stocked in the refrigerator, and instead of writing about the final outfit of the summer season, I am talking about a subject that really sounds like Labor Day—Canning!

Home canning and preserving is more important this season than it has been in many years. Fortunately are the home gardeners who can harvest the fruits of their summer labor and preserve them in rows upon rows of canned goodness. Next best is to buy fruits and vegetables in quantity when quality is at its peak, visiting the open market, driving into nearby country or purchasing supplies in early morning, when they are crisp and fresh.

Remember that vitamins and other food values are quickly undermined when foods are stacked hour after hour in stores or on pavements where the air is sultry or humid. And it is a waste of time and other materials to can wilted produce. Low prices on tough or over-ripe vegetables and fruits, never, are bargains. Top quality is even more important for canning than for table use. If the quality is good to begin with, then it will be just that much better next winter when you open the colorful jar.

Home canning of vegetables, then, is practicable if you have your own vegetable garden, or are able to get absolutely fresh vegetables at a low price. However, there is one more "IF" after quality. That is, can your own vegetables? If you own or can borrow a pressure cooker, it is not safe to can vegetables, except tomatoes, by merely processing them in boiling water.

You do not want your days of work to end in failure and total loss of materials, so it is best to study your preserving method carefully, making sure you understand each step. Another point is to examine all jars, caps and bands used, making sure that they are absolutely clean, sterilized and in perfect condition. Here are some pointers:

1. Examine top of jars to see that there are no nicks, cracks, sharp edges.
2. Wash jars in warm water, then boil them for at least 15 minutes to assure complete sterilization.
3. Select fresh, firm (not over-ripe) products. Grade according to size and ripeness. This assures uniformity and simplifies the final packing process.
4. Follow canning recipes accurately; boil only the required length of time. Follow instructions with jars or in recipe for filling. (See suggestions later in this article.)
5. Set aside to cool on surface on which several thicknesses of cloth have been placed. (Protect jars from drafts while cooling.)
6. Do not turn modern self-sealing jars upside down while cooling and sealing. Do not screw bands down after jars are cold and sealed. (Jars with self-sealing caps and lids require no rubber bands.)
7. Test for seal: When jars are cold, take a spoon and gently tap the lids. If properly sealed, they will give a clear ringing note and be slightly concave (curved inward) caused by the vacuum inside. If not properly sealed, the sound will be dull and low in key, in which case you have an opportunity to re-can contents and thus save your food.

The two common methods of home canning are, No. 1: Cooked-in-the-Kettle, and No. 2: Cooked-in-the-Jar. As the name implies the No. 1 method means transferring the cooked product to the jars. Unless each step receives close attention, microscopic organisms may come in contact with the sterilized food which later will cause it to spoil.

The open-kettle method has been losing favor rapidly in the last twenty-five years. More vitamin C is destroyed in the open kettle method than in the processed-in-the-can, according to the New York state college of home economics. Loss by spoilage is high by the open-kettle method for the reason already indicated: It is difficult to keep the containers and the food sterile during the process of transferring the food to the jars. Fruit may be crushed and aromatic fruit loses some of its flavor.

Do your canning by one of the cooked-in-the-can methods for best quality. Spoilage is reduced to a minimum and the original flavor and appearance of the product are retained more closely. The food may be packed raw, partially cooked or wholly cooked. If it is packed cold, the method is called cold-pack. If it is cooked or partially cooked and packed hot, the method is called hot-pack.

In operating and caring for a pressure canner or steam cooker follow the directions of the manufacturer. Prepare only enough jars at one time to fill the cooker. Do not allow jars to touch; space between the containers is necessary for the circulation of steam.

Tips on Filling Jars

Fill only one sterilized jar at a time. In the open-kettle method, fill to within one-half inch of top with the boiling hot product and liquid.

Hot and Cold Pack Method and Pressure Cooker: Pack products into clean jars to not more than one-half inch of top. (Except corn, lima beans, peas and meats. For these, fill jars to within one inch of top.) Add liquid:

FRUITS: Syrup to within 1 1/2 inches of top of jar, or hot water to within 1/2 inch of top of jar.

VEGETABLES: Liquid to within 1/2 inch of top of jar; salt or other seasoning may be added.

MEATS: For pre-cooked meats, add 3 or 4 tablespoons of liquid. Meats packed raw do not require the addition of liquid.

Vipe top of jar free of all seeds, pulp and grease.

WARNING: These are general rules. If there is some variation in the directions with your own cooker, follow those instructions.

Preserved Fruit

Jars often are filled almost to overflowing with preserves which need not be processed, as the large amount of sugar used in them will act as a preservative to the fruit. For preserves it is well to use scales rather than measures and to allow three-quarters of a pound of sugar to one pound of prepared fruit. Larger fruits, such as peaches and quinces, usually are sliced.

Label all your canned foods. Use gum labels or one of the handy pencils that writes on glass. Store canned foods in a cool dry place, protecting the glass jars from the light by a covering of papers or individual paper bags.

PRESERVING TIME

Ginger Pear Preserves

4 pounds prepared fruit (about 8 cups)
6 1/2 cups sugar
2 ounces green ginger root
2 lemons

Select hard green fruit. Wash, pare and core. Slice thin and place in large kettle. Add sugar and mix well with fruit. Let stand overnight, or 8 to 10 hours. Scrape and cut ginger root in small pieces. Slice lemons thin, removing seeds and add to pears with ginger root.

Place over high heat and bring rapidly to boiling, stirring constantly until sugar is dissolved. Boil rapidly, stirring frequently, until pears are transparent and syrup thickens. The time will depend upon the type of pears used. Pour at once into hot sterilized jars and seal. Yields about 3 pints.

Pink Peach Preserves

6 cups peaches, peeled and sliced
Medium-sized bottle of Marachino cherries, cut fine, with juice
Stir sugar quickly into peaches to avoid discoloration. Add cut cherries and juice and boil slowly until thick. Pour into sterilized jars and seal with paraffin. This yields a colorful, very sweet marmalade. If desired, a small amount of fresh lemon juice may be squeezed over the cut peaches. Use desired quantity of fruit, adding an equal proportion of sugar.

Tomato Jam

4 cups sugar
1 quart tomatoes, peeled and cut up
Juice and grated rind of 1 lemon

COLORFUL TREATS

Stuffed Tomato Salad

6 tomatoes
1 cup chopped cabbage
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped cucumber
1/2 cup chopped radishes
2 tablespoons chopped onion
Parsley, stuffed olives, greens for garnish

Select medium firm tomatoes that are uniform in size. Cut thick slices from the top of each for a cover. Scoop out the center leaving only the clean firm shell. Combine chopped cabbage, celery, cucumber, radish, onion and some minced parsley, if desired. Add 1/4 cup French salad dressing (see recipe) and blend well. Fill shells with mixture. Place 1 teaspoon mayonnaise on top of each and replace cover. A handle made from a slender stalk of celery completes the tomato basket. Serve the stuffed tomato on a bed of shredded lettuce, endive, watercress, romaine or escarole.

French Dressing

1/4 cup salad oil
1/4 cup vinegar or lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon paprika

ing only the clean firm shell. Combine chopped cabbage, celery, cucumber, radish, onion and some minced parsley, if desired. Add 1/4 cup French salad dressing (see recipe) and blend well. Fill shells with mixture. Place 1 teaspoon mayonnaise on top of each and replace cover. A handle made from a slender stalk of celery completes the tomato basket. Serve the stuffed tomato on a bed of shredded lettuce, endive, watercress, romaine or escarole.

Notes: A quick, delicious stuffing for tomatoes is finely diced celery and stuffed olives chopped together and mixed with mayonnaise. Use the tomato pulp for soup, stews, stewed tomatoes or casserole dishes.

Candidates Coming New Class Police
Springfield, Ill. Aug. 28—(AP)—Recruiting of a new class of state highway police candidates for the state police school here will get under way within a few days, it was learned authoritatively today.

Details of the plan to train additional men—probably a greater number than the 96 who were graduated from the first police school Aug. 6—were discussed at a meeting yesterday by state officials in the office of Public Safety Director T. P. Sullivan.

Sullivan declined to comment on the meeting, and other officials said arrangements for the training of the additional policemen were not complete.

Representative J. Ward Smith, Ottawa Republican, who visited Springfield yesterday said he was told by Albert E. Schupp of Joliet, a member of Governor Green's patronage committee, that an allotment of seven men to attend the school from LaSalle county already had been made.

Rep. Smith said he was told the men to attend the school would, in most cases, be those who had already been approved by the governor's police advisory committee.

Former Convict Is Alleged 'Muscler'

Chicago, Aug. 28—(AP)—The procedure by which former convict Frank 'Porky' Dillon became a dominant figure in local 351 of the AFL Confectionery Workers International Union was the subject of an investigation today by the state's attorney's office.

Dillon was picked up for questioning last night after two former officers of the union complained that he had muscled them out of their jobs and taken control of the organization.

Dillon served a term at Joliet prison for robbery in 1925 and once was listed by police as an associate of members of the notorious Touhy gang now in prison for the kidnapping of John Factor in 1933.

James Nolan, former union president, and Nick Dudar, former recording secretary, told Assistant State's Attorney Gordon Nash that they enlisted Dillon's help in obtaining a charter for the union but did not know that was a former convict.

Sloan and Dudar alleged that Dillon succeeded in ousting them by 'packing' a union meeting with friends who were non-members and then conducting a phony election. Dillon, according to the prosecutor, contended his record as union secretary and treasurer was spotless and that Sloan and Dudar were ousted because they were 'detrimental' to the union.

Nash said that union members would be questioned and records examined during the investigation. Meanwhile, Dillon was ordered held without charge for further questioning.

Marion, Ill. Aug. 28—(AP)—The $40,000,000 Illinois Ordnance plant at Crab Orchard lake will be constructed by AFL labor, it was announced following a meeting of labor, contractor and government representatives.

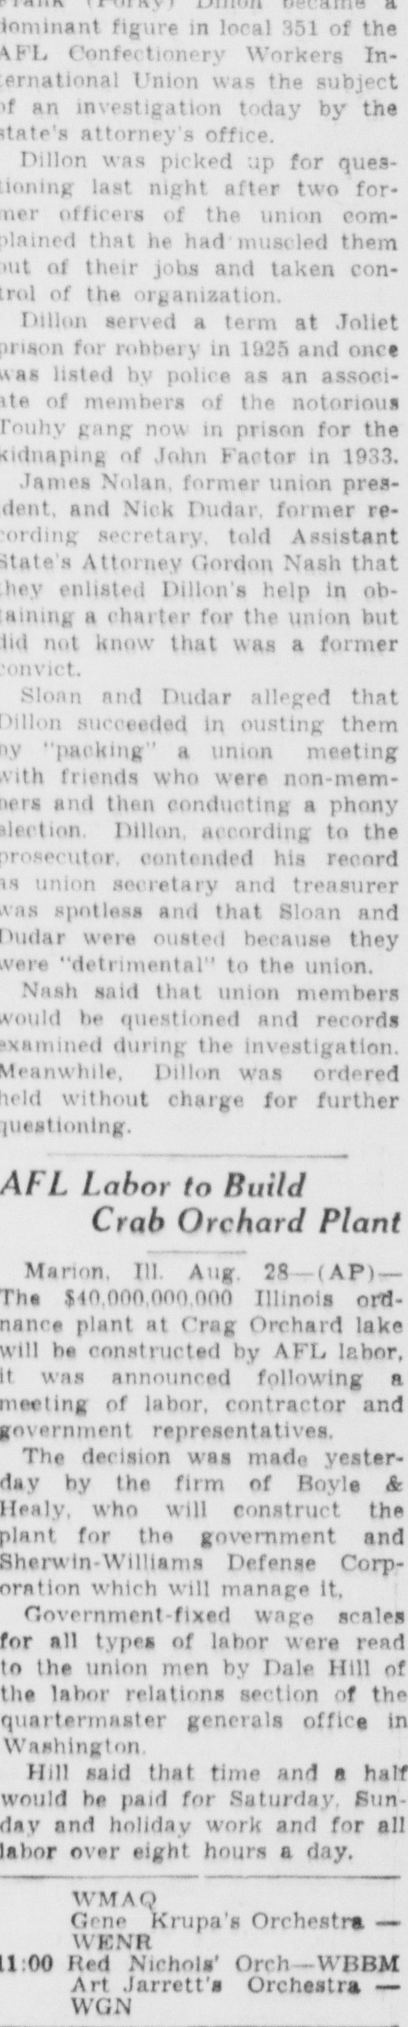

The decision was made yesterday by the firm of Boyle & Healy, who will construct the plant for the government and Sherwin-Williams Defense Corporation which will manage it.

Hill said that time and a half would be paid for Saturday, Sunday and holiday work and for all labor over eight hours a day.
